EXPO 10,000

Let's Thursday, May 6 and EXPO lies in the wings. My list goes on for pages. I've been on the phone for the past three days, talking to folks, talking to those folks again, checking in with them again. Back in 1986, I took a leap and said, yes, I'd like to direct EXPO. I've got some ideas; let's see what it takes to make them happen. Posters, jackets, one loop, not two, Dogwood Arts, t-shirt changes, Old City, sponsor changes, riverboat whistles, balloons, fitness walks, prize monies, church and school competitions, frozen yogurt, doughnuts. That's eight years ago. Before that, I ran seven EXPOs. In fact had a PR twice at 34:54 and then 34:52.

Fifteen years of EXPO for me; sixteen years for others. How old were you back in 1977? How many of those 16 runs have you put your toes on the line? Some 50 folks out there have been at all of them. And some others have, too; they've been making calls, stuffing bags, standing out there on the course, tearing off tabs, cancelling checks, handing out bananas and t-shirts and race numbers and et cetera.

Sixteen years at 6:30 in the morning, hauling tables, hanging banners, rain or shine (actually the worst it's ever been is a drizzle). For one who has witnessed EXPO from inside and outside as a runner and organizer, these folks are the heroes who make me smile most.

It's Sunday, May 9, some 364 days until EXPO '94 and I'm still smiling. Yesterday was glorious. The sun shone, and it was the first time in recent history that I wasn't concerned about rain. Numbers were up for the third straight year. 1972 of you signed up for the 10K, two mile walk, and 200 meter dash.

No one was hit by a car; no one required extensive medical attention. Folks ran within their limits. EXPO this year had the most extensive sponsorship ever. Just look at the logos. We had the best promotion ever from the News-Sentinel, WBIR, WEZK, and Scripps-Howard Cable. Look what was available for runners after the race - the variety of food and drink and massages and booths and clothing. How about four grand prize drawings, including a trip for two on Northwest Airlines. Nevermind the happy prize money winners thanks to Hilliard

Lyons Investment Company.

What about the EXPO supplex shorts for the age division winners and one, two, three, four, five water stations, and West High School Marching Band cheering us on at the finish?

Friday was a celebration at the Hyatt Regency. Many of you took the opportunity to pick up your numbers, and browse through the mini expo. And if you hung around in the evening you listened to Todd Williams or danced to the big bands.

EXPO perfect? Silly question. My apologies for the late start. We did not start the race until it was properly monitored. My apologies for the dogs on the course. This is a competitive event. Dogs and leashes have no place in a crowd of 1500 racers. My apologies for the incomplete age division results at the race end. Computers, like folks, sometimes have bugs.

Funny stories. Funny now, yes. Like the car coming down the Church Avenue hill toward the finish line, engulfed by runners. The driver was female, approximate age 60. After several attempts, I finally got her off to the side. She was unhappy, muttering, and her engine was running. "I have an engagement," she reiterated.

Five minutes later, once again she was backing off into the runners. I went to her rescue with as strong as a command I could give. She complied. A motorcycle policeman arrived at about that time. "Officer," she cried out through this haze of cigarette smoke, "That young man was rude to me." "Madame," he replied, "You're lucky he was only rude. It's time to turn your engine off. You're not driving anywhere."

You never know where or when you might receive a compliment. Just think, I'm still a young man. I suppose the same can be said for eighty-eight year old Eugene Clarke who signed up for the 2 mile Fitness Walk. And if you ran EXPO, I suppose the same can be said for you. Congratulations to all of you young men and young women for running, supporting, enjoying, and celebrating this grand event.

Post-script: A special word of thanks to some key folks. Without them, we would not have had a race. Marge and Bob McLean, Pat and Sherman Kouns, Ian Oxley, Dave West, Chuck Pate, Donnie Baldock. Ron and Angie Manis, Kenny Hines, Judy Seneker, Jonas Holdeman, and Bill Kelch.
